Dear council members and city planners,

I live in clark county, washington and want to protect it for future generations. Please do not expand the urban growth area. Sustaining urban farming is essential to our well-being and quality of life.

As the environment changes and is becoing hotter, natural resources our are most valuable asset. Local produce and farming are esential to our basic needs. Do NOT support reckless, unnecessary development that jeopardizes our future.

This issue is so important. I am out of the country on vacation and am taking the time to write to you. Please listen to your constituents. I urge you to do the right thing. Do NOT pass urban growth area expansion.

Thank you,
Sharon Rickman
