Comments
As a member of Clark County I urge you to:

Reject the expansion of urban growth boundaries and the de-designation of agricultural lands. Protect these lands for their ecological, economic, and community value.
Listen to the data: The County's own research confirms that no expansion is necessary to meet growth needs.
This isn't just about preserving farmland—it's about choosing sustainable, responsible development over short-term gains. Our agricultural lands and natural habitats are the backbone of our community's resilience and identity.

Please, do not sacrifice them for unnecessary development.

Thank you for your time and consideration.
