Comment
Glen Yung and other Council members,

I am a District 1 resident, and I am commenting on my concern for the comprehensive plan set for a vote today as it currently stands. In the current iteration, I feel that there are many items that are pushing for further growth on behalf of the developer and builder interests here in Clark County without thinking about the long-term impact of these items.

First, please adopt a better method of matching the City of Vancouver as well as the State's targets for Greenhouse Gas Emissions. This also ties into the second point, do not expand the Urban Growth Boundary (UGB) and de-designate Agriculture zoning to promote further sprawl in the county and further deplete our county canopy.

Our growth can be accommodated by properly utilizing our lands already in the UGB by allowing upzoning and greater density in the cities and towns covered under this Comprehensive Plan. There is a large coalition of citizens here today and writing online making these same asks. As a youthful resident that has a lot of time left here in Clark County, I ask that my and future generations not be put at risk by the Comprehensive Plan as written today. We have a beautiful county and I plead for it to stay that way.
