Message Subject
Say no to urban growth area expansion

Comments
Hello,
I am writing to voice my strong oppostion to the expansion of urban growth areas as part of the updated comprehensive plan. Clark County has lost too much of its agricultural and wild lands already. We must put a stop to the loss of our fields nad forests to suburban, commercial, and industrial sprawl. I remember how beautiful Clark County was when I was growing up in the 90s in Southwest Washington, and it is deeply saddening to see how much of that pastoral landscape has been buried under subdivisions and strip malls. Clark County has more than enough existing built space already, and any further development should be focused in the current central areas of communities, not on top of prime farmland or native ecosystems. Sprawl drives up the cost of living, increases the burden on taxpayers to provide services and infrastructure, and impairs the long term economic viability of our communities.

Please say no to sprawl. Do not expand urban growth areas.

Sincerely,
Andy Zahn
