Urge Clark County to Integrate Climate and Resiliency Into Its Comprehensive Plan

Intro: Clark County Council is updating its current Comprehensive Plan, as required by the Washington Growth Management Act. This Comprehensive Plan will guide the next 20 years on how the County prepares and plans for growth. Consider 2045: what will our landscape and climate be then? We believe planning for a better future in Clark County means including climate and resiliency into this foundational planning guide. To do this, we need to convince the County that adding these pieces is important and necessary. Please sign this petition to urge Clark County to include climate and resiliency into our Comprehensive plan!

Petition text: We ask Clark County to add a climate and resiliency action plan that includes a greenhouse gas emissions reduction goal to its 2025 Clark County Comprehensive Plan update, and prioritize this work with adequate resources and staffing. Integrating climate into the Comprehensive Plan will result in a more accurate and thoughtful approach to growth. We are already experiencing climate impacts in Clark County. How can we reduce, address and plan for future impacts? The climate and resiliency action plan should address challenges for Clark County including air pollution; affordable housing; disproportionate health impacts for already overburdened community members; protection of farmland and local food systems; increased flooding, droughts, and heat waves along with wildfire risks; decreased stream volumes and water supply; loss of open spaces; harmful over-development; lack of multi-modal transportation; traffic congestion, and the general health, safety and well-being of Clark County communities.

The recent passage of HB 1181 gives counties more authority to address climate impacts. Adding a climate and resiliency action plan will create policy pathways to transform our County's infrastructure to help prevent these problems, support clean/renewable energy and multi-modal transportation, and build a strong local economy with good living wage jobs and sustainable industry. Clark County should position itself to attract resource dollars from Washington state and the federal government to fund projects that mitigate climate impacts, by adding a climate and resiliency action plan to its 2025 Comprehensive Plan update.

Anyone from Clark County, WA may sign this, but please circulate and repost it only if you are 16 or older, for legal reasons. If you already signed ACE's Change.org petition, you do not need to sign this one. If you're not sure, please sign this petition too. This petition was created by the Alliance for Community Engagement SWWA (ACE).
