Hi Gayle –

Please find attached the most recent version (from the July 25 hearing) of the proposed code to implement the housing options study. Also attached are two memos from our consultant outlining issues that the Technical Housing Code Forum discussed at two meetings since the July hearing. We do not have a proposed schedule at this time, but the forum worked through many of the issues in the two recent meetings so I anticipate we may be moving to the adoption process in early 2024. We do not yet know if we will need to go back to planning commission or if we will just go back to council.

If you are interested, you can watch videos of the forum meetings. They are posted in the grid on the bottom of this page:

Please let me know if you have any other questions. Thanks!

Hi Susan,

Hope you had a nice Thanksgiving!

1. I was wondering if you could send me the latest proposed code that is coming out of the housing options study?
2. Also, what is the proposed schedule for these code changes? Do you know roughly when the code will likely be adopted?

Any info you can provide would be greatly appreciated!

Thank you, Gayle
