When houses go for sale there should be a policy where that lot the house sits on can be bought by either a non-profit or a community co-op to build different kinds of housing, examples, duplexes, four plexes, tiny homes, 4 bedroom tiny homes, earthships, 3D printed homes, bamboo home etc.

There needs to be a board created so they could ask the questions. Who are we planning for? How are we planning? What is actually affordable housing compared to wages? Is there access to transportation?

We should have the community be the ones who have stake in their community. We do not need to commodify housing. We need to work together to make housing a human right.

We must change the paradigm because if not us, then who and when?
