Comments:

Planning for our future needs to consider new ideas and step outside what worked before. The past we knew is not going to translate into the future. Greater density, protection of our ag lands, and more community focus (as opposed to individual) will be necessary. We need to plan for a community that will experience higher temperatures and more drought. New units need to have AC. Water conservation & recycling should be built-in to the system. Let's not give away land and opportunities that we can't recover in the next comp plan. Approve Alternative
