To the County Council:

I am a fourth generation Clark County native. I want Clark County to remain a place where the next generations will want to live. That would be one that protects ag and forest lands, our waters and natural resources and provides affordable housing options for all.

I am saddened to see huge single family houses popping up on former farmland far from urban utilities. These don't meet the needs of most residents and cost more in public services than they generate in taxes.

Please support Option 1 to preserve our County resources, both natural and financial. Per the County's own research there is enough land within current growth boundaries to supply housing and commercial growth needs for the next 20 years.

Thank you for considering my comments.
